

Program Key Performance Indicators — (Bachelor)

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

Introduction

Performance indicators are important tools for assessing the quality of Academic Programs and monitoring their performance. They contribute to continuous development processes and decision-making support.

The National Center for Academic Accreditation and Evaluation has identified 11 key performance indicators at the program level. All of which are in line with the Program Accreditation Standards version 2022. These indicators are the minimum to be periodically measured, and the academic program can use additional performance indicators if it believes they are necessary to ensure the quality of the program.

It is expected that the academic program measures the key performance indicators with benchmarking using the appropriate tools, such as (Surveys, Statistical data, etc.) according to the nature and objective of each indicator, as well as determining the following levels for each indicator:

- Actual performance
- Targeted performance level
- Internal reference (Internal benchmark)
- External reference (External benchmark)
- New target performance level

A report describing and analyzing the results of each indicator (including performance changes and comparisons according to sites and gender) is expected with precise and objective identification of strengths and aspects that need improvement.
